Special instructions:

For Flotex Carpets:

Location used – Conference Halls & Training Rooms

Everyday Cleaning

Flotex carpets have to be vacuum-cleaned regularly with an upright vacuum cleaner for best results. One has to set the brush adjustment on the lowest setting so that the brush actually touches the pile. When vacuuming, push forward at normal speed and pull back at half speed. This gives the brush time to sweep out any fluff etc. that may have been pushed between the fibres. Pet hair should be removed with a damp cloth.

Wet cleaning

- Flotex benefits from the occasional wet clean. This can be carried out with a machine such as Vax or hot-water extraction machine available for hire from dry cleaners and DIY machine hire shops.
 - The recommended detergent supplied with these machines is suitable for use on Flotex. However, it should only be used in a very weak solution, about one part detergent to one hundred parts water. You should always rinse your Flotex with clean water after using any detergent.
 - Mopping or wiping is not recommended as this only cleans the tips of the pile
- Dealing with spillages
- Remove spillages as quickly as possible using the following

Guidelines –

(a) Wet spillages

(Includes fatty foods, cooking oil, water based-drinks, non-fatty sauces, oil, petrol, paraffin.)

Remove the spillage as soon as it occurs

If the spillage has dried, pour on hot water and allow to soak for 5-10 minutes before attempting to remove it.

For small areas, use the scrape, scrub, rinse routine shown below, using a weak detergent solution or suitable carpet cleaner (1 teaspoon detergent to 5 litres of water).

For larger areas see the previous wet cleaning section.

(B) Dry spillages

(Includes washing powder, dry powder paint, spices.)

- Lift off any excess spillage. Vacuum/brush thoroughly
- DO NOT use water. This will simply activate bleaching or colouring agents and could result in permanent staining.

(C) Mud

- Allow to dry then vacuum
- Then scrape, scrub, rinse or wet clean

(D) Waxes

- Scrape off excess
- Use suitable dry cleaning fluid, then rinse

(D) Tar, solidified fat

- Use suitable dry cleaning fluid.
- Then refer to scrape, scrub, rinse routine or wet cleaning section.

(E) Paint

Scrape off excess

Water based: wash with detergent solution

Spirit based: Use suitable dry cleaning fluid, methylated spirit or white spirit.

In all cases, rinse after removing paint.

Rinse Ball-point ink, shoe polish

Use methylated spirit or white spirit

Wash with weak detergent solution.

Rinse Chewing gum, sweets, Plasticine modelling clay

Freeze with suitable freezing agent and break off brittle pieces

If necessary wipe sparingly with suitable dry cleaning fluid.

Step 1 SCRAPE

Scrape off as much of the spillage as possible into a paper towel or cloth. Use a paint scraper or blunt utensil.

Step 2 SCRUB

Pour a liberal amount of hot water onto the area. Add a small amount of detergent (approximately 1 teaspoon of detergent to 5 litres of water). Use a suitable carpet shampoo or detergent. Scrub using a stiff brush and scrape the dirty solution into an absorbent cloth.

Step 3 RINSE

Rinse thoroughly with clean water. Scrape the excess water into an absorbent cloth and leave to dry.

WARNING

Flotex can be permanently damaged by strong acids, strong alkalis, some solvents or materials containing them. It can also be stained by dyes, foodstuffs and other materials containing dyes or strong colorants. Bleach and substances containing bleach, oxidizing and reducing agents may also damage and/or decolourise Flotex. Damage may be minimized by immediately diluting the spillage with water, then removing with an absorbent material or extraction machine. Urine can also stain Flotex if not cleaned effectively.

Vinyl carpet protector

Not recommended, can damage Flotex.

Burns

Cigarette or other hot object can melt the nylon pile, resulting in permanent damage. Repairs are possible.

Stilettos, uncapped chairs

As with any floorcovering, stiletto heels, uncapped chairs and other articles applying high point loads can damage Flotex

Laminated Wooden Flooring

Location use – VIP Lobby and Dining Room

Wood laminate floors are increasing in popularity as they're durable, inexpensive, attractive and easy to install. However, unlike tile floors or vinyl floors, wood laminate flooring does require a special cleaning technique.

Most laminate floor planks include a few layers of paper (which is where the wood design is printed). Although this paper is protected with a high-tech coating, it still requires special care to ensure it maintains its beauty and durability through the years. Most wood laminate floor companies do not recommend using cleaners like regular floor cleaners (such as the pine scented style on your supermarket shelf) or Murphy's Oil Soap on laminate floors.

Follow these basic guidelines for cleaning of the Wooden Flooring:

Step1: Sweep it with a broom. Although these styles of floors are very durable, it is possible to scratch them with a small pebble or sharp object. Because of this, dry mops with metal edges can actually leave marks on a laminate floor. Opt for a plain plastic or bristle broom, and sweep lightly to avoid scratching rocks or stones across the surface of the floor. Remove all major debris and dirt from the floor this way before moving onto the next step.

Step 2: Dust it. These days, companies are making "mops" that are essentially nothing more than a disposable dusting cloth on the end of a long plastic stick. (You can find non-disposable versions that use soft, reusable cloths in your local home or hardware store.) These "mops" are perfect for cleaning up any small bits of dust and dirt that may be clinging to the floor after you've swept it. Carefully dust the floor, then switch to a new cloth, which you'll need in Step 4.

Step 3: Spray it. Specialty wood laminate floors cleaners can be purchased in many home improvement stores, retail stores that sell flooring, and online. Some supermarkets and discount department stores also stock this specialty cleaner. Choose only a cleanser marked safe for laminate flooring. Otherwise, you could end up with a soapy cleaner that will leave a streaky residue or film on your floor. Spray the cleaner lightly across the entire floor.

Step 4: Mop it. Use your "dust mop" to mop the moisture of the cleaner across the floor. Apply pressure, but not so much that you leave a scratch across your flooring. Gently use the mop to "buff" the floor as you clean it.
That's all it takes! Caring for your wood laminate floor is a relatively simple process, although you will need to be cautious so you don't scratch the floor with the rough edges of any mops or brooms. With proper care, your laminate floor should remain attractive and durable for many years.

Italian Marble

Location Used – Corridors, Board Room, Lobbies etc etc

- Mop the floor with a dry dust mop.
- Fill a bucket with warm water and dish soap or stone cleaner.
- Dip a mop in the soapy water and wring out the excess moisture. Mop the floor one section at a time, rinsing the mop in the bucket as often as necessary.
- Empty the bucket of soapy water and rinse out the mop. Refill the bucket with clean water.
- Dip the mop in the bucket and wring it out. Rinse the floor with the clean mop, working your way out of the room.
- Dry the floor immediately with a towel.

Full Glass Panels

Glass surfaces can be troublesome to clean. It's hard to know which side the streaks are on, and getting rid of them completely can be time consuming.

The right rags: Paper or microfiber cloths will effectively clean glass. Special wood rags will also clean glass without streaks. Stay away from plain, cotton towels. These will leave lint behind, marring the beautiful finish you are trying to achieve. There is truth to the claim that newspapers do a great job of cleaning glass. Old newspapers will work wonders on your glass, leaving it sparkling and clean. While it's a great way to recycle old papers, it will leave ink on your hands. A Wipe is the best way make the Glass shining.

Chemicals: Several different chemicals can be used to clean the glass. Spray chemicals from the store are effective, fast and don't require any special mixing.

TENSILE ROOFING

ROOF CARE AND MAINTENANCE GUIDE

The Roofing System that now covers your building is a state-of-the-art roofing system that requires very little attention. However, all roofs from time to time require a limited amount of maintenance to insure the longest possible service life and to avoid any unnecessary costly repairs. The following guidelines to help assure that your roofing system will remain watertight and fully functional for many years.

1. Make arrangement for inspection of the roof at least twice yearly, spring and fall. Closely inspect all roof penetrations and flashings.

2. Have all drains and rainspouts cleaned on a regular basis to provide for proper water runoff.
 4. Avoid exposing the roofing system to solvents, greases, oils, petroleum products, coal tar, and asphalt contamination since these may adversely affect the performance of the roofing system.
 6. Access to the roof should only be permitted to responsible personnel. Anyone having access to the roof should be instructed that the roof system requires appropriate care and that workmen should avoid laying or dropping tools or equipment parts on the membrane roof.
 7. DO NOT PERMIT SMOKING ON THE ROOF.
- Adherence to these guidelines is strongly recommended.

Wallpapers

Keeping your wallpaper clean is key to maintaining its looks and durability.

Basic Cleaning and Maintenance

Remove dust and cobwebs by vacuuming with the brush attachment.

If your wallpaper is washable, wipe the walls down at least once a year. You can buy wallpaper cleaners or make your own using a weak solution of mild dishwashing detergent and cool (never hot) water. Use plenty of soft cloths and always do a final rinse with clean water. White vinegar and cool water is an excellent cleaner if your walls are not very soiled.

Grease and Crayon Stains

Carefully scrape off grease or wax residue. Lay a clean, absorbent white cloth over the stain and hold a warm (not hot) iron over it. This will absorb much of the residue. Follow up with greasecutting cleaner, blotting rather than rubbing.

Grubby Marks and Fingerprints

If the area around light switches gets smudged and soiled, consider one of the clear plastic covers available at any hardware store. For soiled areas, try rubbing gently with a pencil or art eraser first. This really works.

Depending on the washability of your paper, you can use mild cleaners and a damp cloth, but never use abrasives unless you know for sure your wallpaper is extremely scrubbable.

i) Daily cleaning (three times)

- Cleaning of glass doors, windows using glass cleaner
